Third announcement
New deadline for proposing a satellite meeting: June 15th

The deadline for proposing a satellite meeting at the Pathways conference has been extended to June 15th. You will find the announcement of opportunity below.

Meanwhile, we encourage you to visit the main conference website (<http://www.pathways2009.net>) for further details, to submit your abstract, and register for the conference.

Important dates:

- June 15th: deadline for early registration and abstract submission to the main conference
- July 15th: publication of the final programme in the web
- July 15th: deadline for full refund (except for 15€ handling fee)
- September 14th-18th: conference
- November 15th: deadline for submission of proceedings
- Spring 2010: distribution of proceedings

Looking forward to seeing you in Barcelona,

Vincent Coudé du Foresto and Ignasi Ribas
for the Scientific Organizing Committee (soc@pathways2009.net)

Announcement of opportunity for satellite meetings
<http://www.pathways2009.net/satellite.html>

The venue chosen for the Pathways conference (CosmoCaixa science museum) makes it possible to hold a special session on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at 5PM after the end of the main meeting. One session can be held in the main auditorium (312 seats) and two smaller rooms (60 seats) are also available in parallel. The nominal duration of a special session is 90 minutes.

We therefore welcome proposals to hold satellite meetings of specific interest in conjunction with the Pathways conference. The meetings can deal with a particular project or technique, explore in more depth a Pathways related science topic, or cover anything else that is relevant. They can take the form of a workshop, a panel, an open discussion, or any other appropriate format.

Organizers of the satellite meetings will benefit from the full exposure and logistics of the Pathways conference (except for the publication of proceedings), while maintaining editorial control on the meeting. Participants will have to register to the main conference even if they only attend the special sessions.

To propose a satellite meeting send an email before June 15th to soc@pathways2009.net with the following information:

- Name and contact of the main organizer
- Title and short rationale
- Tentative list of main speakers or participants
- Format description: number of sessions requested, room size requested, special needs (in which case a prior inquiry to establish feasibility is recommended)

The satellite meetings will be announced by June 30th.
