Objet: WG: Important dates for EANA 13

Dear member of the European Astrobiology Network Association,

This is a reminder of events that will take place on occasion of the 13th European Workshop on Astrobiology EANA'13, to be held in Szczecin, Poland, between 22 and 25 July 2013:

<http://eana13.astrobiologia.pl/>

1. The poster of EANA'13 is now ready for downloading at the EANA'13 website:

<http://eana13.astrobiologia.pl/>

You are encouraged to print it and post it at your institute.

2. The deadline for submitting abstracts for EANA'13 is approaching soon: March 15, 2013. Please, encourage your colleagues and students to submit abstracts. As you already know from previous EANA Workshops, we pay special attention to encouraging students and young scientists to attend; we provide them a platform for presenting their results in front of an experienced audience (as a talk or during chaired poster sessions), and they have a chance to be awarded by prizes obtained during the student contest or for their posters.

3. Students have the chance to apply for the student contest "The space factor". A further description how to apply is available at the EANA 13 website:

<http://eana13.astrobiologia.pl/?q=node/33>

4. The deadline for applying for travel grants (students - graduate and undergraduate-, and young scientists, up to the age of 35) is 15 March! Applications have to be sent to Beda Hofmann <beda.hofmann@geo.unibe.ch>

5. You are kindly requested to disseminate this information to your colleagues interested in astrobiology

Thank you very much in advance for supporting EANA

With best regards and hoping to meeting you soon in Szczecin

Gerda Horneck
President of EANA

P.S. I apologize if you have received this information more than once.
GH
